

West Virginia Board of Medicine

Fall 2020

Upcoming Board Meeting:
November 9, 2020

Because of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, the Board of Medicine's office remains closed to the public. Upcoming Board meetings primarily will be held via virtual platform. If any member of the public wishes to attend a virtual meeting, contact Executive Director Mark Spangler at Mark.A.Spangler@wv.gov for instructions on how to join the meeting.

Letter from the President

by Kishore K. Challa, MD

If there is anything positive to be realized from West Virginia's ongoing State of Emergency, it has been the opportunity to work even more closely with my fellow Board members, the Board of Medicine staff, and leaders at the community, state and national levels.

This was true from the time Gov. Jim Justice issued the emergency declaration on March 16. The Board of Medicine, in cooperation with the Governor's Office, the Board of Osteopathic Medicine, and others, sought changes to the Medical Practice Act and the Physician Assistants Practice Act to provide regulatory relief to practitioners on the front lines.

The resulting regulatory flexibility has allowed the Board to implement rule suspensions, emergency rules and other practices. Our remarkable licensing staff has processed 1,367 emergency MD registrants and 102 emergency PA registrants as of Nov. 1 to help deal with the COVID-19 crisis – a testament to their hard work and dedication.

Early on, I worked with Board Vice President Ashish Sheth, Executive Director Mark Spangler and West Virginia Sen. Joe Man-chin's Office to effectively address concerns regarding the need for telemedicine expansion during the State of Emergency. There is now payment parity for audio-only telehealth services with video telehealth services. We contributed to a subsequent news release issued by Manchin and fellow West Virginia Sen. Shelley Moore Capito advocating for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services to increase telehealth reimbursements to equal other audio-visual and in-person visitation reimbursements. CMS increased the payment range for these services, retroactive to March 1.

We all recognized that the citizens of West Virginia are among the most vulnerable in relation to the COVID-19 virus. Therefore, these temporary modifications that allow for increased patient access, via telemedicine, to qualified providers during these unprecedented times have been vitally important.

Influenza Season & COVID-19 Pandemic

By Quartel-Ayne Amjad, MD, MPH
WV State Health Officer

Discussing routine vaccinations with your patients is crucial during the COVID-19 pandemic. Please be sure to discuss the Influenza Vaccine with your patients as early as possible.

There are three crucial mitigation efforts to help reduce the spread of COVID-19 which also helps reduce the spread of Influenza:

1. Washing your hands with soap and water for at least 20 seconds;

2. Covering your nose and mouth with a face covering or mask; and,
3. Staying at least six feet away from people or large crowds.

Early testing and detection of COVID-19 is important. Testing opportunities have increased throughout the state through community-based testing events, and at local health departments, pharmacies, and physicians' offices. Please share this information with your patients.

Telemedicine Regulations Relaxed

During the COVID-19 State of Emergency, and to ensure maximum flexibility for licensees and to surge response to COVID-19, the West Virginia Board of Medicine encourages the use of telemedicine technologies, consistent with the standard of care, and where appropriate for patients.

Gov. Jim Justice's Executive Order 7-20, as amended by Executive Order 10-20, suspends certain provisions of the Medical Practice Act to facilitate the use of telemedicine technologies.

In addition, for the duration of the COVID-19 emergency, the prohibition on establishing a provider-patient relationship via audio-only communication is suspended temporarily. If audio-only communication satisfies the standard of care for a particular patient presentation, it may be used to establish a provider-patient relationship and to provide patient care.

Effective March 1, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services increased telehealth reimbursements to equal other audio-visual and in-person visitation reimbursements.

30, when I presented an online PowerPoint discussion of "COVID-19: West Virginia's Regulatory Response" to members of the American Association of Physicians of Indian Origin (AAPIO). You may recall that I had presented to AAPIO last July during the organization's annual meeting in Atlanta on the topic of "Physician Licensure: The Dos and Don'ts." This time, Sen. Manchin joined the Saturday discussion remotely, while Sen. Capito offered a video statement.

We continue to explore every opportunity to address the COVID-19 crisis through the creative use of all available resources. The Board, as always, welcomes your comments and suggestions. Please submit comments and/or suggestions to Mark.A.Spangler@wv.gov.

On a personal note, I want to thank the Board's Nominating Committee, including former board member Dr. Harry Duncan, Tori Takubo, PA-C, and Dr. Jonathan Lilly for their diligence in soliciting nominations for the election of officers. I think I can speak for Dr. Sheth when I say that we are humbled by the ongoing support reflected in the outcome of the election (see related story, Page 8) and grateful for the continued confidence in our leadership as expressed by our fellow Board members.

We look forward to protecting the public and serving WV health care consumers and our licensees as we navigate these challenging times.

Board Revises Social Media Position Statement

The West Virginia Board of Medicine has embarked on a long-term project to review and update its position statements on various topics.

During its January 2020 meeting, the Board approved a revised policy titled "The Appropriate Use of Social Media and Electronic Communications in Medical Practice." This action followed the release of model policy guidelines by the Federation of State Medical Boards' Ethics & Professionalism Committee in April 2019.

The revised position statement includes discussion of: principles and ethical implications of social media and electronic communications; current and emerging social media and electronic platforms; use cases for social media and electronic communication; professional disciplinary action that may result from inappropriate use of social media; and guidelines and recommendations for both personal and professional use.

The following guidelines are based on the principles of ethics and professionalism, and are recommended for physicians who use social media or electronic communication in their personal and professional lives.

1. Do not disclose individually identifiable patient health information or post images or videos online without the express written consent of the patient.

2. Be mindful of and remain in compliance with all relevant professional and legal responsibilities, as well as policies and guidelines of your state medical board.

3. Maintain appropriate professional boundaries with patients and their surrogates, as well as physician and non-physician colleagues at all times, whether online or in-person.

4. Politely turn down requests from patients to connect on social networking sites. It may be acceptable to accept requests on professional accounts, provided that the account is used for professional purposes only.

5. Communicate and engage in social media in personal and professional settings with civility and respect for others.

6. Comport yourself professionally, even when communicating or posting in a personal capacity. If you discover unprofessional or inappropriate content online posted by a professional colleague, notify the individual so that they may remove the post or change their methods of communicating. If the situation does not improve, report the behavior to the state medical board or other relevant authority.

7. Do not engage in disruptive behavior online such as cyberbullying, and report instances of such behavior by professional colleagues to the state medical board or other relevant authority.

8. Consider all online content as open and accessible to anyone, regardless of whether it is posted in a closed or private forum and regardless of privacy settings and levels of encryption used.

9. Consider any social media post as permanent, even after it has been deleted.

10. Be mindful of how and where you use devices, often referred to as AI Assistants, that record conversations, such as Amazon's Alexa, Apple's Siri, Google's Google Assistant and

COVID-19 Info

The West Virginia Board of Medicine continues to partner with the West Virginia Bureau for Public Health, the West Virginia Coronavirus Hotline (1-800-887-4304) and other state entities to ensure that practitioners have access to updated information concerning Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19).

The information includes available testing criteria, information on setting up office personal protective equipment (PPE) procedures and related questions.

The Board will continue to update its website as new guidance becomes available.

Staff Updates

Thomas “Matt” McCall has accepted the position of Physicians Assistant Licensure Analyst, filling a post that had been vacant since the departure of Valerie Anderson several months ago. McCall first joined the Board staff in October 2019 as Administrative Assistant / Receptionist, a role now filled by recent addition Leisa Reed. Reed began her responsibilities in June. We wish them well in their new positions.

Executive Director Mark A. Spangler, MA, has been named chair of the Interstate Medical Licensure Compact Commission’s Communications Committee. He also is a member of the IMLCC’s Executive Committee.

In addition, Andrew Wessels, director of intergovernmental and public relations, has been invited to serve a second term on the Federation of State Medical Boards’ Editorial Committee. The committee acts as the editorial board for FSMB’s official publication, the quarterly Journal of Medical Regulation.

Board News

Gov. Jim Justice appointed two new members to the West Virginia Board of Medicine in July.

Quartel-Ayne Amjad, MD, MPH, was named state health officer and commissioner of the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Resources' Bureau for Public Health. In that capacity, she serves ex officio as secretary of the West Virginia Board of Medicine.

Meanwhile, the governor named Christopher Tipton, DMSc, MPAS, PA-C, of Kistler in Logan County to succeed longtime Board member Dean Wright, whose distinguished tenure with the Board extended over two decades. Dr. Harry Duncan also left the Board at the conclusion of his term on Sept. 30. We wish them the best in their future endeavors.

Amjad holds a bachelor's degree in biochemistry from Virginia Tech, a master's degree in public health from West Virginia University, and her medical degree from Marshall University. She also studied internal medicine at Allegheny General Hospital.

Previously she was the project coordinator of Beryllium Research Team, of the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health, and a Centers for Disease Control and Prevention fellow. She is the founder of Bee Better, a non-profit organization against opioid addiction and a member of the Human Rights Commission in Beckley.

"As a native West Virginian, I have served my region for many years from treating addiction to chronic health disease," she said in a news release. "Especially during this pandemic, I am truly excited to take on this new role which will have a greater impact and provide the opportunity to serve all the residents of the state."

Amjad succeeds Catharine C. Slemph, MD, MPH who resigned as the State Health Officer on June 24. We wish her the best in her future endeavors.

Tipton has been associated with Lincoln Primary Care in Man, WV, since 2013. He earned his Bachelor of Science degree from Mountain State University in Beckley in 2002, a master's degree in Advanced Physician Assistance from A.T. Still University in Kirksville, MO, in 2015, and a Doctor of Medical Sciences degree from Lynchburg College in Lynchburg, VA, in 2019.

In other Board news:

Dr. Mustafa Rahim was named by Board President Kishore Challa to chair the Legislative Committee, succeeding Dean Wright.

Dr. Rahim

Dr. Jonathan Lilly was named chair of the Licensure Committee, succeeding Duncan.

Dr. Lilly

Dr. Ashish Sheth was reappointed by the Governor to serve on the Board for a term ending Sept. 30, 2024.

Dr. Sheth

Rev. Janet Harman was asked to serve a one-year term on the Federation of State Medical Boards' Ethics and Professionalism Committee.

Drs. Challa and Sheth Re-Elected

South Charleston cardiologist Dr. Kishore K. Challa has been re-elected to serve a second, two-year term as president of the West Virginia Board of Medicine, while Cross Lanes internal medicine specialist Dr. Ashish P. Sheth has been re-elected to a second, two-year term as vice president.

The election took place during July's regular bimonthly meeting of the WVBOM. Challa and Sheth officially began their second terms the following day. Dr. Quartel-Ayne Amjad, recently named state health officer and commissioner of the West Virginia Bureau for Public Health, serves ex officio as board secretary.

"I am honored to continue to lead the outstanding board members and staff of the West Virginia Board of Medicine," Challa said. "The licensure, regulation and oversight of 7,549 physicians, 137 podiatric physicians and nearly 1,150 physician assistants in West Virginia is a responsibility we take very seriously, and we are most fortunate to have an organization that is up to the challenge."

Challa, president of South Charleston Cardiology Associates, began his medical education in his native India, and then moved to the U.S. to complete a medical residency and cardiology fellowship at Coney Island Hospital in New York. After completing his training in interventional cardiology at New York Medical College, he and his family moved to Charleston in 1989.

Challa is board certified in internal medicine and cardiology, is a fellow of the American College of Cardiology, and a member of the American College of Chest Physicians and the Kanawha Medical Association. In February 2013, he was presented with the Distinguished West Virginian award by then-Gov. Earl Ray Tomblin, and in 2014 received the American Heart Association's Heart of Gold award.

Challa also chairs the board's Executive/Management Committee and Personnel Committee, and serves as a member of the Legislative Committee. He originally was appointed to the board in January 2013 and reappointed by Gov. Jim Justice in October 2017.

Like Challa, Sheth began his medical education in India before completing his residency in internal medicine at Jersey Shore Medical Center. Sheth also chairs the board's Complaint Committee, and serves as a member of the Executive/Management Committee, Legislative Committee and Personnel Committee. He and his wife, Falguni, who is a respiratory therapist, operate the medical practice WV Primary Care.

2020 Renewal Period Concludes

The extended deadline for licensure renewals, brought about by the COVID-19 pandemic, expired at the close of business at 4:30 pm EDT on September 30, 2020.

Under normal circumstances, the renewal period, which began online May 11, 2020 would have concluded on June 30, 2020. However, to assist the West Virginia Board of Medicine in relieving regulatory burdens on practitioners who are responding to the COVID-19 pandemic, Gov. Jim Justice suspended certain provisions of the Medical Practice Act to give the Board flexibility regarding license expiration and renewal during the ongoing State of Emergency.

During the renewal period, 3,675 medical doctors (whose last names begin with the letters A through L) renewed their licenses. The renewal period also expired at 4:30 pm EDT on September 30, 2020 for controlled substance dispensing practitioners whose last name begins with the letters A through L (126 renewed), professional limited liability companies (139 renewed), and educational permit participants (413 renewed).

If a license, permit, registration or authorization expired, licensees should expect an interruption in practice while a reinstatement application is processed.

Federation of Podiatric Medical Boards Update

By Carrie A. Lakin, DPM, FACFAS

Due to the ongoing COVID-19/SARS CoV2 pandemic, the Federation of Podiatric Medical Boards (FPMB) held a virtual meeting in early Spring to discuss the impact on member state entities that deal with licensure and discipline of their podiatric physicians.

We found that our West Virginia Board of Medicine (WVBOM) COVID-19 website update – which provides a link to the federal Centers for Disease Control and Prevention website, as well as general office procedures that were recommended for implementation to safeguard the public – was quite possibly the first of its kind, based on conversation with those states represented at that meeting. As such, we shared our website with them to serve as a possible template upon which they might build a plan to keep their own healthcare communities as safe as possible.

Many states participating in the meeting had not yet experienced a surge of COVID-19 cases. That provided an opportunity for them to create and initiate procedures prior to having their system stretched to the limits. As of late, we are now seeing that very situation come to pass in many states from the Southwest.

Being proactive with these recommendations early on by the WVBOM not only assisted the WV medical community with expectations for patient safety while continuing to practice, but also provided other states with a “jump start” to the process of finalizing their own state policies.

Once more, West Virginia has shown that our primary focus of concern for our patients to receive the best possible care has placed us in a position of preparedness to meet any challenge, including a global pandemic.

New Licensees: Jan. through Oct. 2020

The West Virginia Board of Medicine issued 496 medical doctor licenses, one Restricted License in Extraordinary Circumstances, one Medical School Faculty license, one Volunteer Medical license, 124 Interstate Medical Licensure Commission licenses, nine podiatric physician licenses and 129 physician assistant licenses for the period of January through October 2020. ## UPCOMING CME AUDIT

W. Va. Code R. §11-6-5.2. authorizes the Board to “conduct audits and investigations as it considers necessary to assure compliance with continuing education requirements and to verify the accuracy of a renewal applicant’s certification of continuing education.”

In just a few weeks, the Board will conduct its annual CME audit. Licensees who renewed their license in 2020 attested that they successfully completed all continuing education requirements for the CME cycle of July 1, 2018 through Sept. 30, 2020. Physicians who are randomly selected to participate in the CME compliance audit are required to submit written documentation which supports their renewal attestation within 30 days of audit notification. Please see the Board’s website for additional information concerning CME requirements for medical doctors, podiatric physicians and physician assistants.

IMLCC Numbers Jump

Statistics from the Interstate Medical Licensure Compact Commission (IMLCC) reflect that the volume of applications, including requests for additional licenses, has increased significantly since March – a spike which may be attributed to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The IMLCC processed an average of 430 new applications and 370 renewal applications each month for the five-month period from March through July. An average of 460 licenses were issued each month during that period.

The IMLCC also recently conducted its annual data study of completed applications from April 1, 2019 and March 31, 2020. A completed application is defined as an application that has resulted in the issuance of all requested licenses or the applicant was deemed to be ineligible.

That study of 2,995 applicants found that 20 percent obtained three or more licenses; 16 percent of physician applicants did not meet eligibility requirements. On average, IMLC member states issue Letters of Qualification within 37 days of receipt of an application; licenses are then issued, on average, within 20 days.

The Compact's process, which was initiated in April 2017, has been used by more than 7,400 physicians. The total number of medical licenses issued passed the 10,000 milestone in early May.

Twenty-nine 29 states, the District of Columbia and the U.S. Territory of Guam are members of the Compact. A map of the Compact member states can be found at www.imalcc.org.

Physicians who seek a Letter of Qualification from the West Virginia Board of Medicine should contact Sheree Thompson.

Scam Alert

In recent months, boards of medicine across the country have been alerted to various scams. In one scam, a board's main telephone number was "spoofed" or mimicked, and licensees were subjected to threatening phone calls. In another case, an attempt was made to extort money as the person was threatened with an investigation.

More recently, scams related to COVID-19 have cropped up, from applications for unemployment using stolen Social Security numbers, to fake contact tracing texts asking recipients to click on a link. Contact tracing is extremely important, but do not click on a link in a text message purporting to be from a health department, and never give out Social Security or financial information when requested to do so by text or phone.

The federal trade commission has good advice on these contact tracing-related schemes.

If you believe you were the target of such a scam, here are some steps you can take:

- Report the threat using the DEA's Extortion Scam Online Reporting form.

- If the scammer claims to be associated with the Board, contact the West Virginia Board of Medicine at (304) 558-2921 or send an email to wvbom@wv.gov.
- Contact the West Virginia Attorney General's Office at (304) 558-2021.
- Submit an online complaint with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) using the FCC's Consumer Complaint form.
- Contact the FBI: <https://www.fbi.gov/contact-us>
